Hamman family organization leadership

Our Hamman family organization leaders need help! We hate to mention our average age, but let it be noted we are senior citizens and then some!

We are asking for anyone willing to help the officers. We need new blood and young Hammans to get involved. If you would like to help us out, let us know what positions you might consider. If you just want to help, we can gradually work you into the family leadership.

Please contact Gary Hamman, our president, if you can assist us.

We also need contributors for the ECHO. Please send any items of interest to jimandnancyrose@gmail.com

Hamman Relative Invents the Iron Lung

Ben Hammonds found this interesting article in the New York Times about a Hamman relative of note. He posted this recently on the Hamman Facebook page. The 1964 news article about Dr. Charles Morgan Hammond. Dr. Morgan is a descendant of William Cook Hamman (1796-1870) and Elinore Rowe.

1964 New York Times:

“MEMPHIS, Feb. 16 (AP)—Dr. Charles Morgan Hammond, who said he invented the first iron-lung type of respirator more than 60 years ago, died today at the age of 85.

Dr. Hammond brought out his first respirator in 1909 and later received a patent. But he was never able to get it into production and failed to renew his patent. Because he let the matter drop, his claim to the invention was obscured.

Dr. Hammond was a general practitioner in Walls, Miss., just across the state line from here, from 1928 until his retirement three years ago.

He got the idea for his iron lung while suffering from an attack of pleurisy in 1906. While fighting for breath he wondered if he could reduce the air pressure over his lungs.

In his sickbed Dr. Hammond drew the preliminary sketches. On his first day out of bed he visited a carpenter/mechanic on the plantation where he lived near West Memphis, Ark., and they built a crude respirator, which fitted over the chest and was operated by hand.

The first iron lung contained no iron except the nails that held its wooden parts together. Rubber attachments made it airtight at the arms and waist, and a rubber tube led to the hand-operated bellows. Later a motor was added, and Dr. Hammond was issued a patent in 1909.”

Trent Buddy Hammond

Dr. Charles Hammond is the grandfather of Trent (Buddy) Hammond. Trent and his wife Karen have attended Hamman reunions regularly for many years. Trent retired as a Major from the USAF in 2004. He and Karen live in Tecumseh, OK. Ben S. Hammonds is a descendant of Phillip Hamman, Jr and Mary Ann Lewallen Hamman through their son, James Henry Hammond. Ben is the major contributor to the Hamman/Hammons/Hammond & Relatives Facebook page. (<https://www.facebook.com/groups/109549302463246>).

Hamman Relatives Meet by Chance

Vondell and Glenda Plunkett, residents of Lookout Mountain, TN took an opportunity to visit a local historic home in nearby Menlo, GA. The historic 150-year-old Forrester home had been opened for one day as an “open house” to allow those interested view the home. As Vondell and Glenda were leaving the home, they ran into Hamman cousins, Bill and Carolyn Jett, who had also come to tour the open house. Bill and Carolyn live in Bremen, AL, about 2 ½ hours from Menlo.

Vondell and Glenda Plunkett with Bill and Carolyn Jett

Vondell says they had a nice, unexpected visit with the Jetts.

Vondell has had an interest in old cars for many years. The silver car in the background is one of Vondell's vintage autos. Vondell and Glenda travel frequently to car shows where his car is always a favorite. They also have driven their restored cars to our reunions

Glenda Hammons Plunkett is a descendant of William Hamman and Sarah Hanks Hamman through Burlington Green Hamman.

Hamman Reunion Prized Cane Gets Good Use

A Facebook post from Nancy Cooper about her husband Ben Cooper:

"Ben recently had a knee replacement and is using this cane. He won it at the Hamman reunion in Tyler a few years ago. It was carved by one of my cousins and is absolutely beautiful. It's the perfect size as well. He loves it." Nancy Fisher Cooper is the granddaughter of Altha Louella Hamman, a descendant of William Cook Hamman

The cane was donated for the auction by Ruth "Dinky" Young. The auction was held at the 2018 Hamman Reunion in Tyler, TX. The cane was hand made by Ruth's father, Elvie "Dink" Hamman. Ruth is a descendant of Phillip Hamman, Jr and Mary Ann Lewallen Hamman through their son, William P. Hamman.

Phillip Hamman Family Association is now Tax Exempt

Family leadership has checked into requirements for Phillip Hamman Family Association (PHFA) to be tax exempt. We have done that by forming a 501 (c) (7) organization. This type of organization is called a "social association" and funds may be held in a bank account without requiring the PHFA to pay taxes on the money.

The PHFA now has Articles of Incorporation as well as Bylaws. We hope to have the link to view these documents available on the website soon.

Unfortunately, donations made to the Hamman Family Organization still are not tax deductible for the donor. That would require forming a 501 (c)(3) charitable organization, and our Hamman Association does not meet the requirements to be a 501(c)(3) charitable organization.

Captain James Cook is likely a Phillip Hamman Relative!

Gary Hamman submitted the following information he found about Valentine Cook. He decided to do a bit of research on the Cooks after friends sent him a picture of the Captain James Cook site in Newfoundland, Canada.

The great grandfather of Phillip Hamman's wife, Christina Cook, and the grandfather of Captain James Cook are the same man: John Cook (1670-1710). There is a Capt. James Cook Historic Site near Corner Brook, Newfoundland. Capt. Cook was killed by local Hawaiians and is buried on the west coast of Hawaii about 10 miles south of Kona (19.481N, 155.933W).

The site of the Captain Cook Monument south of Kona, Hawaii can only be reached by watercraft, by kayak from Kahikolu, or by land via a steep hike. Jim and Nancy Rose visited this site several years ago by kayaking the mile across Kealakekua Bay. The snorkeling there is world class!
